Mrs. Geo. Shields Passes Away

Death came to another of Raymond's old-timers Monday at 10:40 when Mrs. Florence Jane Court Shields wife of George Shields passed away after about four months serious illness from heart trouble and high blood pressure. She has been troubled with this ailment for several years, but had been enjoying a fair degree of health until the passing of her mother four months ago which shock seemed to much for her, and she has been ill almost steadily since that time. She took a turn for the worst Sunday, and all was done that was possible. She spent a pretty good night Sunday night but about 7 a.m. Monday morning she took a decided turn for the worse, and passed away as stated. Her passing was quite peaceful and without any severe or long suffering.

Besides her husband she leaves two brothers, George and Thomas Court of Raymond and Cardston, respectively, and five children, Merlin of Diamond City, Roy and Carl of Raymond, and Jennie, Mrs. Jack Housley, Raymond, and Pearl, Mrs. Geo. Housley of Taber, to mourn her loss. Four children have preceded her, two boys who died in infancy, and two daughters, Mrs. Joseph Hancock of Raymond, and Mrs. Wilburn Johnson of Barnwell. She has 18 living grandchildren.

BIOGRAPHICAL

Mrs. Shields was born in Salt Lake City, Utah, April 13th, 1873 and spent her girlhood there. In 1892 she was married to George Shields in the Manti Temple & spent the first years of their married life in and about Salt Lake.

About 1900 they arrived in Alberta, and settled first in Stirling. After a few years they moved to Raymond to make their home, & Mr. Shields went to work on the canal, and purchased the farm east of town; where he is still farming, from the Church in the early days of the irrigation district settlement.

Mrs. Shields was an active worker in the Church organizations when she was enjoying good health, and their home was a haven of rest for the traveller at all times. In her later years when her physical condition prevented the work in the Church she liked so well, she turned her attention to Genealogy and Temple work, and carried on in this splendid work as long as it was at all possible for her to do so.

In her passing Raymond and district loses a friend and mother, and we extend to the husband and children our deepest sympathy in their bereavement.

FUNERAL SERVICES

Funeral services for Mrs. Shields were held Thursday afternoon in the 2nd Ward Chapel with L. L. Palmer of the 2nd Ward Bishopric in charge. C. B. Strong was in charge of the Choir, with Mrs. Paul Dahl at the organ. Hymns by the Choir were: "Though Deepening Trials," "Oh My Father" and "Abide With Me." Mrs. Blanche Seoville sang "My Task," and Jos. McLean sang "I Know That My Redeemer Lives."

The invocation was by O. H. Snow and the benediction by Chas. B. Strong.

Speakers were ex-Bishop J. W. Evans, and S. I. May. Elder Evans was Bishop of the Raymond Second Ward spoke of the activities and years of serv-

CALGARY POWER RATES WILL SAVE PEOPLE MONEY

The Council desires to call the attention of the citizens to the Calgary Power Co. ad. on the back page of this issue, where the comparison of total charges over the year 1935 as between the present franchise of the Canadian Utilities and the proposed Calgary Power for service and power.

It will be noted that taking the Town as a whole there is a saving of over $1,800, and this based on the charges as shown. We are assured by officials that in the domestic and commercial rates the three and one-third cent charge for winter will be done away, and the 2 1/4c rate for the second block will maintain; this will of course mean a further saving to the consumer of light.

Calgary Power Co. officials were in Raymond Friday and discussed some of the points of the franchise with officials of the Town.

NEWS NOTES

Town workmen were busy the first of the week putting the water into the new restaurant in the O'Brien block.

Several young fellows from the district north of town were using the sidewalk for a speedway Saturday night last when Constable E. S. Hawk nabbed them. They cooled their heels in the Town Hall that night and told their story to Magistrate Low on Tuesday.

Andy Sorenson caught his hand in the scales at The Factory Tuesday last and lost a finger in the accident, the index finger being amputated, and the one next to it is so badly crushed that it may have to be taken off as well.

Speaking in Lethbridge Tuesday Hon. T. A. Crear told his audience that the Dominion Government was ready to co-operate with the Provinces in building dustless highways, but that when Federal money was spent it should be spent where it would bring the Dominion the best returns. Their plans there were very largely limited to tourist highways connecting Canada's National Parks.

One of deceased in the organizations of the Church when her health would permit. Her example of industry, honesty and sincerity were a priceless heritage to her children, and he hoped the children would all benefit by it, and follow in the footsteps of their mother. He did not consider this as a last respect to deceased, because as long as her children lived we would be paying tribute to her memory.

Elder May spoke of the nearness of the spirit world and the interest our kindred dead had in us, and also of the deep interest deceased had always shown in Temple work and looking after the dead.

L. L. Palmer, on behalf of the family thanked all who had in any way assisted during the illness and death of Mrs. Shields.

Pall bearers were all nephews of deceased, and nieces and grandchildren were flower girls. A large cortege followed the remains to the cemetery where interment was made with the Lawnview Mortuary in charge.

Sacred Cantate Presented Sunday Night

"Moroni," the Solitary Scribe, a sacred cantata written by C. Frank Steele, now of Lethbridge but formerly of Raymond, with music composed by C. F. Tollestrup, local composer, and for many years Stake Chorister, was presented here Sunday night in the Stake House, both Raymond wards meeting jointly, and Stake Pres. T. Geo. Wood taking charge of the meeting, which was attended by nearly 600 people.

Preceding the presentation of the Cantata Mrs. C. F. Steele and Geo. Brown Jr., both sang local solos, and Elder Steele and Elder Tollestrup each spoke briefly and expressed their appreciation of the opportunity to present their efforts to such a splendid audience.

Soloists for the cantata were Jos. McLean and Mrs. Emma Burr, the reader was H. Myron Holmes, and the presentation was augmented by a chorus of 20 voices and a seven piece orchestra all of which added to the interest of the offering.

With Moroni, last of the Nephite scribes as the centre of the play, the reading told of the scene of death and desolation which he beheld, of the utter destruction of his people because of sin and wickedness, the blood thirstiness of the Mamonites who were pursuing him, making it necessary for him to hide in the caves all day and by night to go forth seeing the heavy hand of destruction of both sides, and inscribing these things on the golden plates, and in the closing bars he steals forth to hide these up in Cumorah's hill, seals the hiding place and departs stealthily that the whereabouts of the sacred record would not be known.

The audience paid very good attention throughout the rendition and greatly enjoyed the evening. Pres. T. Geo. Wood and Elder J. W. Evans expressed the thanks of the people to the sponsors of the program for such an enjoyable and educational evening.

NEWS NOTES

P. D. Bennett of the Safeway Stores, was a Lethbridge business visitor Tuesday.

Ducks are reported as plentiful in the Taber district, apparently feeding and stopping in the irrigation sloughs and ponds near there.

378,000 is the estimate of citizens of Alberta registered for the Social Credit Dividend. E. C. Manning. It looks as though our costs of Government were to increase instead of diminishing.

ATTENTION COUNCILMEN

Council meeting for the Town Council will be held TUESDAY evening, October 6th, instead of Thursday 8th, as usual. Please take notice of this change and be on hand at 8 p.m. Tuesday night.

Three new boards are to be set up to administer phases of Social Credit legislation according to an announcement of Hon. E. C. Manning. It looks as though our costs of Government were to increase instead of diminishing.

Factory Started At 8 a.m. Monday

The Raymond plant of Canadian Sugar Factories Ltd. started its 12th campaign at 8 a.m. Monday morning, Sept. 28th, in what is expected to be from 100 to 120 days in duration. The beets during the past three weeks have made marvelous growth, and if heavy, killing frosts hold off for another week or ten days still further development in root growth and sugar content will result. Early in the fall officials were not so optimistic about the final results, but the moisture and sunshine of the past month have made a big difference, and they are predicting an average tonnage of one and a half tons over last year.

The big plant has been completely overhauled here for a number of days, and since the brickwork around the boilers was completed two weeks ago or more, they have been held under fire to completely cook and dry the brick and mortar before the run was started. A crew has also been working in the lime kiln several days before start of the campaign, to have a supply of lime on hand for the vats.

The crews, with the extra gang have all been arranged, and while there are many men in town looking for work, it is doubtful if very many more will be taken on in the mill proper.

There is an extra crew working which gives a man one day a week off, which gives more men work and spreads the money around a little more. Three trainloads of beets were on the tracks when the run started Monday morning, and one of the pillars was working in the yards, so that there is not likely to be any scarcity of beets as digging is under way now in all parts of the district. The Picture Butte Factory will likely start Monday, and it is expected that officials of the Company from here will go over there for the start.

The moving of a number of key men to Picture Butte has meant reorganization of the staff here and the appointment of several new foremen. The assistants to Superintendent C. R. Wing now are, Jos. McLean, Cecil Birch and Jack Kenney on the West end of the mill, and Reel Litchfield, Jack Blaskovits and Roy Nalder on the East end. Quite a few men are being broken in this year and the foremen and station supervisors will have a rather busy time until the new men get on to the ropes and know when and how to do. Everything however is working smoothly now, and Superintendent Wing hopes to get 1,200 tons per day throughout the run.

Several Changes At Priesthood

The regular Stake Priesthood meeting Sunday, was characterized by an unusual amount of business in the way of new appointments and changes in the Stake District officials of the Stake District. Residents for the Stake Missionary work had been chosen by President Earl P. Tanner, and they were sustained as follows:

Magrath and Welling District—C. C. Spencer, Magrath. Raymond District—Earl H. Boyle, Raymond. Whirling and Foremost District—Wm. Spackman, Stirling. Tyrell's Lake, Warner, Milk River and Coutts Districts—Jas. S. Anderson, Raymond.

The following missionaries were sustained, the call being for two years, the missionaries to spend at least two nights a week in this work, and as much more time as they can devote: George Thompson, Emil Ehler, Wallace Dufley, Harry Bly, Alma Miller, Emory Gurney, Marion Bingham, Blaine Harker, Wm. Mendelkow, Christian Peterson, Evan Stringam, Clarence Alred, Floyd Litchfield, Wilford Meldrum, John Powelson, Ernest Reithman, Henry S. Gibb, Oliver McLean, Ezra L. Paxman, Don. H. Wall, Owen E. Lee, Wm. Selman, Delsel Selman, Paul Schneider, George Romeril, Wm. Boehme, George Rasmussen, Byron Vance, Wm. C. Stone, Isaac Roberts, John S. Till and Lief Erickson, with others to be added as needed.

It is hoped to get this work actively underway by the 1st of November and to keep going for the meeting.

With Earl Tanner as Mission President, he was released from the Stake Genealogical Committee Chairmanship, and John T. Steele was sustained in this position.

Orson A. Woolley, now in his 83rd year, and who for years has been President of the High Priests Quorum of the Stake was released with a vote of thanks and with him his two counsellors, Thos. O. King and F. B. Rolfson, J. Wm. Evans was sustained as the new President of the High Priests Quorum. His counsellors are not yet chosen.

Mrs. Amelia Briggs was released from the Stake Relief Society Board, and Mrs. Myrtle W. Passey was sustained in her stead.

The voting in all these instances was unanimous and the retiring officers all were given a vote of thanks for their willing and efficient labors.

A list of names was presented for ordination to the office of High Priest, and were all passed on.

Mrs. Louis Brandley, President of the Stake Primary was asked to report briefly and stated that Primary organizations had recently been effected in branches and outlying districts, until now nearly every child of Primary age in the Stake was being contacted and given the message of the Primary work.

The singing Mother of Stirling provided a Chorus and Quartette as special musical numbers for the meeting.

News Notes

R. W. Tollestrup spent last week in Calgary.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Porter spent the week end in Medicine Hat.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Elder and children returned last week from a visit with relatives in Idaho.

There was some frost Sunday evening, but the middle of the day Monday was surely lovely and warm.

The big bats of the Yankees were going great Friday when they hammered the New York Giant pitchers for 18 runs. Tomorrow's game will be at the Yankee Stadium, and it is expected the grounds will be packed with fans. The game on Thursday was rained out.

Bert Court was in Picture Butte last week, returning home Friday night.

The bus from Cardston was more than an hour late on Saturday.

Mrs. Bitner Taylor has had her home moved into town, and will in future live here instead of on the farm.

Sidney Smith, Jr., who has been working with E. E. Reithman at Picture Butte for some time returned home Friday night.

Theodore Ehler and sons were busy last week stuccoing and succo painting the reconstructed Brewerton bungalow one block west of Broadway.

Premier Aberhart Here Next Wednesday

Premier Aberhart will be here next Wednesday for sure. This was the information given the Recorder Friday morning by Solon E. Low, M.L.A., in a phone conversation. Details of the visit are not complete, but Mr. Low hopes to have the Premier here to meet people during the afternoon, and then a banquet in the evening followed by a public meeting. It is expected that the banquet will be held in the Opera House, and while the meeting will be open to the public, the attendance at the banquet will be regulated by the number who can be served. Because of the press of work the visit this week was impossible, but Solon Low assures us that Premier Aberhart will be here next Wednesday without fail.

INDEPENDENCE AND SELF RESPECT

Poor indeed is that individual who has lost his spirit of independence, his self-respect and his friends. Wealth may be lost without any particular loss being incurred; this is something that can be regained. Man may be misjudged, and his supposed to be friends turn him down; this may hurt but it will not crush so long as the individual has been four square and has tried to play the game. But, when an individual relinquishes the desire to be independent, the spirit to fight and win, when one permits him or herself to become embittered toward the world at large for some real or imagined wrong, then he is sacrificing that which is hard to regain, and which cannot be purchased with money, the respect they have held in the hearts of their friends.

Today we are living in a peculiar age. Time was when a person took it for granted that if they ate well and were kept warm in the winter it was necessary for them to prepare in the summer and fall for that enjoyment. If they needed medical attention they planned to pay their bills when they received it. If they rented a home they expected to pay the rent. They helped their neighbors in cases of troubles and sicknesses, they nearly always had enough and to spare of good substantial food, etc. What is the picture today? We have an ever increasing group of people who are human parasites. They live off the labor of their fellowman and enjoy it. They are too indolent to raise a garden, too careless to care for a cow and too improvident in the day of plenty to provide for the days of want. What is the result?

We have people striving in every way to pay their taxes, improve their property, do their share as citizens of the town and country, and what is their pay? They are taxed to death. Taxes for administration of relief taxes for this and that and the other, until the share of the loaf they have is very small, and is it any wonder they rebel and refuse to pay, these ever mounting costs, when their neighbor sit down to better meals than the taxpayer eats, and gets them from the honest, hard working taxpayer's money. And worse than all, brags about how he works the Government for relief.

Face the question fairly. Every dollar spent for relief must either be paid by taxes or charged to generations yet unborn. Then, the person who gets relief before it is an absolute necessity is just a much a robber as the person who comes into your house and robs you or holds up banks and individuals for something that someone else has worked to produce. The only difference it is indirect robbery, and many people so far forget themselves that they use every subterfuge to obtain relief, and then brag about how smart they are. Truly the "idler should not eat the bread of the laborer," and the sooner nations get to a work and wages program, the sooner the relief racket will be broken up. In a land of opportunity such as we have, it seems that our relief costs are much higher than they should be.

As individuals and as a nation are we going to remedy this situation while it is still possible, or are we going to let the giving of relief become a frankenstein that will devour the source of its inception in uncontrolled greed and graft,

RENEW YOUR RECORDER THE COMPOSITION AND USES OF SOY BEANS

(Experimental Farms Note)

The world production of this valuable legume is probably in excess of seven million tons annually. Manchuria, the largest producer, is followed by Japan and the United States. Statistics relative to the Russian crop are not available.

Canadian production is, as yet, too small to exert much influence on the world market, but there is an increasing interest in the soy bean crop. Varieties suitable for domestic production are gradually replacing the imported beans.

Chemical analyses have been conducted for some years by the Division of Chemistry, Central Experimental Farm. The protein content, it has been found, ranges from approximately 31 per cent to 39 per cent, while the oil constitutes from 14 per cent to 18.5 per cent of the bean. Of two varieties, having characteristics suitable for Canadian cultivation, the unsaturated acids in the oil range from 82.2 per cent to 84.3 per cent. The iodine numbers show a variation from 125.0 to 134.2. These data indicate the value of the oil for industrial applications, were readily oxidizable oils are demanded. The inorganic salts, containing valuable mineral matter, approximate 5 per cent of the weight of the bean.

The uses of soy beans are many and varied. Considerable amounts of the oil are used in paint mixture in conjunction with linseed and tung oils. A prominent automobile manufacturer, who maintains a staff of chemists, now finishes his product by utilizing an enamel the base of which is a synthetic resin produced from the soy bean. The resin also finds application in the manufacture of electrical equipment. Because of its drying properties, the linoleum and oilcloth industries use large amounts of soy bean oil.

Much of the oil finds its way to the soap vats. Here it is especially suitable for automobile soaps. Glycerine is produced as a by-product.

Some other uses for the oil are, as rubber substitutes, cell uloid, printers inks, explosives, salad oil, lighting and lubricating oils, as core binders for foundry work. The partly hydrogenated crude oil has been found useful as a stabilizer for shortening compounds.

Soy bean oil contains lecithin, a phosphoried fat, and is displaced egg yolk to some extent as a source of this material used in medicine. Of interest too, along medical lines, is the disappearance of food allergies, particularly those caused by protein, following the ingestion of especially refined oil.

THE accumulated assets of the life insurance policy-holders of Canada are the largest—by far the largest—single class of investment holdings in the country. They include every type of non-speculative investment, but owing to the nature of the insurance contract the greater part of them consists of credit claims against property, with principal and interest payable in fixed dollar amounts, rather than ownership equities whose value and income depend upon earnings. The owners of these investments are only nominally the insurance companies themselves, some of which are wholly mutualized, and all of which administer total funds in which the shareholders' proportion is an almost infinitesimal part; the real owners are the policy-holders themselves. And in spite of the existence of a fair number of very large policies which may be regarded as a class of very rich men's investments, typical policy holding is a matter of a few hundreds or thousands of dollars, the chief asset and the metaphorical anchor to windward of some industrial, commercial or professional worker who has not accumulated and never will accumulate any other important asset.

No act of destruction or partial destruction of the value of any such credit claim, be it a government bond, a municipal bond, a public utility bond, a railway bond, an industrial bond or an ordinary property mortgage, can ever fail to impair the assets of the life insurance policy-holders of the country. Any widespread destruction of such values must necessarily render the assets of the policy-holders inadequate to perform the function for which those policy-holders rely upon them. The same is true of policy-holders with the value of the unit of currency in which these credit claims are expressed. Policy-holders who have any real regard for the interests of their beneficiaries—the women and children for whose benefit the vast majority of life insurance policies are taken out—should set their faces immutably against all government tendencies leading to partial or complete repudiation of debt contracts, for such tendencies are destructive to the whole system of insurance.

The object of insurance is to make something sure. The effect of repudiation is to make everything unsure.

The beans furnish a home-grown nitrogenous concentrate for animal feeding, being a source of protein for sheep, beef and dairy cattle and brood sows. It should, however, be used with caution in the rations of market hogs, since it produces soft pork.

As a protein supplement, the oil meal is of value in the rations of beef cattle, dairy cows, sheep and poultry. A simple mineral mixture is advantageously added, since the meal is deficient in this respect.

For human use, the beans provide many forms of food-stuffs. The green beans may be served as a vegetable or in salads. Flour made from processed beans, high in fat content, is now found in the products of many bakeries. Since starch is absent, soy bean flour is marketed in diabetic foods.

The dried beans have been used as a coffee substitute, in soups, as a source of casein, as a milk substitute and cheese.

As the composition of both the fat and the proteins of soy beans more nearly approach the composition of these constituents found in animals, soy beans could be used to replace meat in the diet.

The uses of this interesting plant are finding increasing application.

Country Elevators AND Grain Marketing

Elevator companies, including the Pools, are members of the Winnipeg Grain Exchange and use it in exactly the same manner and for exactly the same reason. They use it because the futures market is the best method which has been so far devised to protect the farmer and to ensure low handling charges. It is not used by either the Pools or the other elevator companies for the purposes of profit.

The Pooling method, which is the only other method which has been tried to date in Canada, cost the West many millions of dollars. It is no longer seriously advocated, even by those who invented it. If in the future any organization, commission or government can evolve a system of marketing Canada's crop which will consistently return to the farmer even a fraction of a cent more than he obtains through the present methods, the line elevator companies will be the first to endorse and adopt such a system. At the present time all elevator companies (including the Pools) market grain in exactly the same way because it is the best and cheapest way which has yet been devised.

Fair competition is the farmers' safeguard.

Propaganda by the Pools, through the Western Producer, country newspapers and field meetings, attacking the elevator companies because of marketing methods which the Pools themselves adopt, is untrue and hypocritical and merely designed to abolish the competition which is the farmers' best protection.

C. W. Moore, Sales Manager, Royal City Caniners Ltd., returned recently from Winnipeg, flying back to the Coast. The trip was made in one of the new sound-proof, ten-passenger planes. "A most comfortable trip," said Mr. Moore. "The planes are air-conditioned, with individual reading lamps, adjustable seats, air cushions, and air pillows, magazines, cigarettes and exceptionally fine lunches, including hot tea or coffee, or cold soft drinks. It goes almost without saying that the scenery viewed from such an altitude is unsurpassed."

"Conditions in the Prairies are probably a little improved over last year, some districts being better and some much worse. Crops suffered severely in many sections from drought, but in some districts, such as around Regina, Moose Jaw, and Yorkton, where crops were poor last year, they are very good this year."

Mr. Moore states that the Royal City lines are becoming increasingly popular on the Prairies. This gives employment to more of our people, as the Royal City lines are packed in the West.
